

HEALTHY & ACTIVE CHILDREN

lifespans motor development science & application

September 11-14, 2019

VERONA, ITALY

Organized by I-MDRC and CIAPSE

Topics

Cognitive development and academic achievement

- In relation to motor skill
- In relation to physical activity
- In relation to sport

Motor development:

- Development of gross and fine motor competence in children
- Motor proficiency barrier
- Predictors of motor development
- In relation to perceived motor competence
- Environmental enrichment
- Investigating & promoting motor competence
- Conceptual & assessment issues

Motor learning and control

- Motor control in special populations

Physical Activity and Sport

- Investigating & promoting PA and sport (e.g. school and afterschool)
- In relation to health
- Merits and risks
- Coaching
- Outdoors

Physical Education

- Types of PE practice and transfer
- PA in a PE context

Physical Literacy:

- Capacity building and policy development
- Physical literacy programs
- Physical literacy best pedagogical practices

Organization

- 5 plenary lectures
- 10 symposia
- 10 free presentation sessions
- Large space and time for posters and special sessions (technical workshops, meet the expert, student meetings)

Relevant dates

- Call for symposia: now to Nov 15th, 2018
- Posters/oral abstracts: Dec 1st, 2018 to March 15th, 2019
- DD for early bird fees: April 30th, 2019

Plenary lecture speakers

- Karl Newell, USA
- Luca Bonatti, Italy
- Jean Coté, Canada
- Maureen Weiss, USA
- Eero Haapala, Finland

Fees

- Regular: € 330.00 (late: € 450.00)
- Teacher: € 200.00 (late: € 300.00)
- Student: € 150.00 (late: € 250.00)

Web site: www.getkidsmoving.it

Info: info@getkidsmoving.it

Scientific Committee

- G. Fumagalli, Italy; D.F. Stodden, USA; A. Sääkslahti, Finland; L.M. Barnett, Australia; L.E. Robinson, USA; P. Tortella, Italy; C. Pesce, Italy; B. Jidovtseff, Belgium; E. Gerlach, Germany; J.D. Goodway, USA;

The promoters

I-MDRC, the International Motor Development Research Consortium, was established in 2014 to increase the visibility and impact of motor development research via international collaborations.

CIAPSE (Congrès Internationale sur l'Activité Physique et le Sport chez l'Enfant) had its first assembly in France in 2010 with the aim to provide a forum for discussion open to scientists and educators around children's growth, motor development, physical activity, and sport.

WELCOME to VERONA

a city of art, history, love, food and wine

.....and more

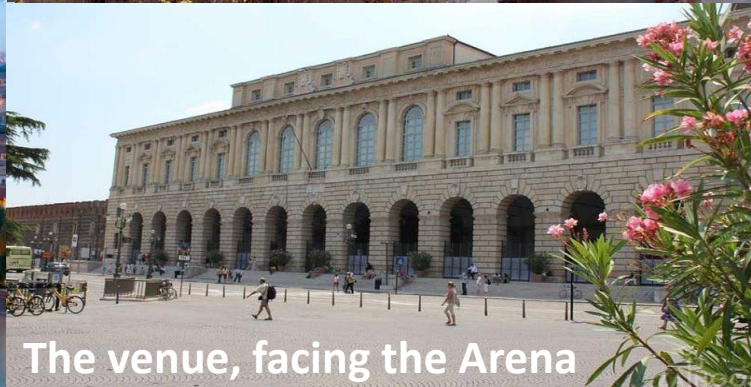

The Arena

Giulietta's balcony

The old city

The venue, facing the Arena

Verona and the Garda Lake are close to the Alps and 100 Km from Venice, 150 Km from Milan and 200 Km from Florence

